Foreword

AS WE, THE CLASS OF 1950, near the end of our senior year, the persons, the places, and the things with which we have been closely associated during our school years, take on a nostalgic emphasis as we anticipate our severence of those ties which have become so dear to us.

As a sort of frame to the picture, or a rampart or palisade protecting the heart of the whole, stand the lofty pines of the campus. Stately and strong in the face of obstacles, withstanding the cold of winter and the heat of summer, bowing but not breaking before the winds and the storms, always upward pointing to the sky, evergreen and wholesome, the pines suggest a symbolic significance, which we have selected as the motif and theme of our yearbook.

As products of the system of Catholic education, we young graduates have an obligation to ourselves and to the world to reflect in our lives the Christian principles with which we have been imbued. We must be steadfast and strong in the face of obstacles which may rise to confound our faith; we must overcome the cold of temptation to laxity or indifference; we must withstand the heat of prejudice or hostility; we may bow—in our weak human nature—but we must not break before the storms which may harass our pathway through life; we must be women of high ideals, of keen faith, of apostolic zeal, of charity for fellowman, and of wholesome, God-fearing, personal lives.

As we read and reread the MERCIAN of 1950, the campus pines of our beloved Mount will remind us that our lives, to be materially and spiritually successful, must be dedicated to a Crusade of Prayer.

The pines are gazing up into the sky
While stretching forth their leafy arms
In suppliant prayer to God Most High.

Dedication

THE MEMBERS
MT. ST. MARY'S ALUMNAE
ASSOCIATION AND
MT. ST. MARY'S MOTHERS CLUB

WHOSE MANY PROJECTS and various undertakings, not only during this school term but during the many years of the past, have, through the devoted interest and conscientious efforts of the members, reflected credit on their estimable organizations and reaped benefits for us and for our school.

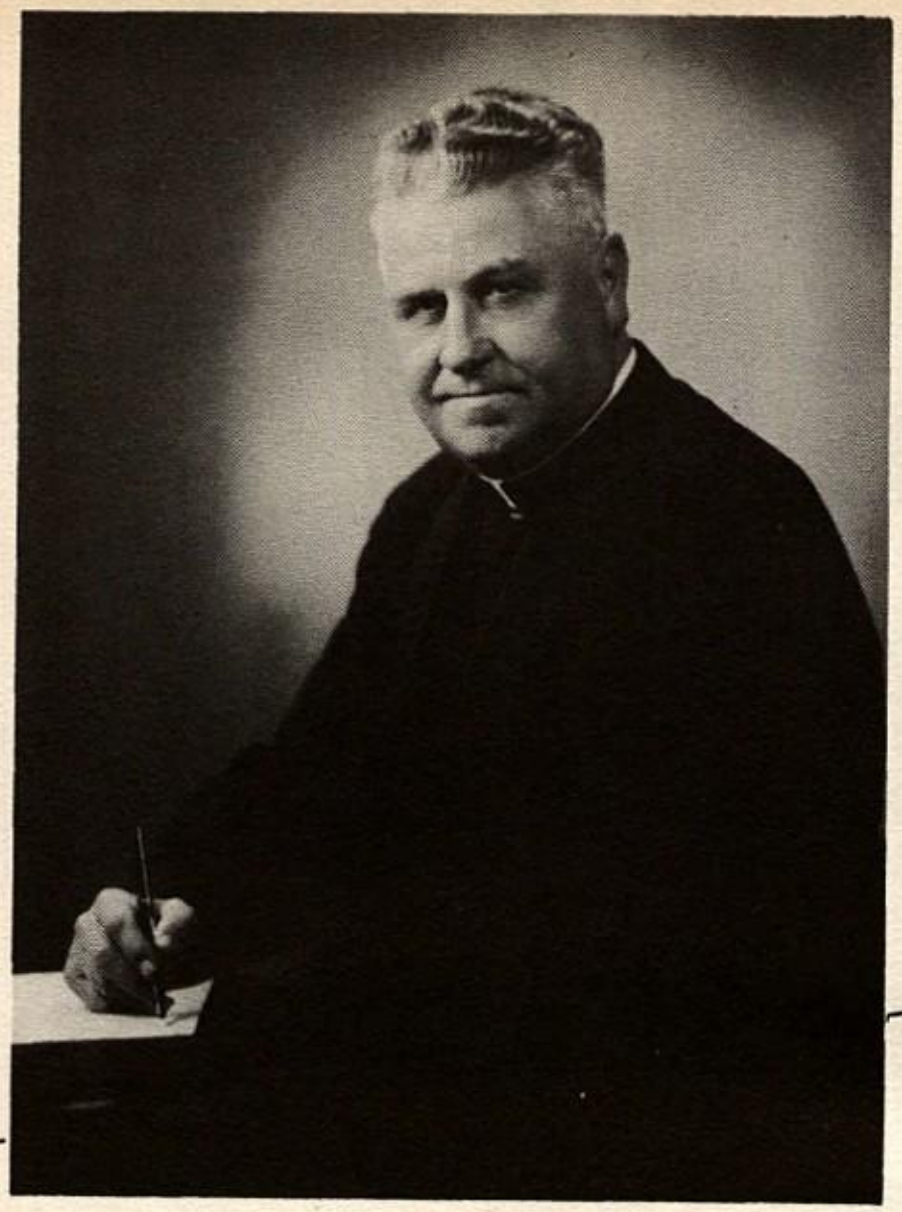
To the Alumnae, we say a sincere "thank you" for their generous sponsorship of financing installation of the elevator, for their whole-hearted cooperation in the work of the annual bazaar, and for their many other contributions of effort and of funds in the cause of Alma Mater.

To the members of the Mothers' Club, a most sincere expression of gratitude for their interest in us which extends outside the home, into our school life, and beyond into our after-school lives. Their self-sacrificing work in supplying improvements and additions to the physical plant make possible the introduction of facilities which supply benefits to us in our physical, mental, and moral growth.

A special "thank you," dear Mothers, for financing this year the new sewing room and biology lab equipment, and for the lovely Mother-Daughter tea and Dads-and-Daughters' Dinner.

May God bless you, individually as members and collectively as organizations, for the splendid work you are doing for Alma Mater.

Very Reverend
Monsignor
THOMAS L. KEANY



Greetings to the Graduates

Mount St. Mary's Academy

Little Rock, Arkansas

Dear Graduates of the Class of 1950:

The years follow one another in rapid succession and once again I have been reminded that it is time for me to extend a valediction to the members of this class. As we stand at the parting of the ways to drink a stirrup cup, sad thoughts fill our minds and unspoken words freeze upon our lips because, in the course of human events, it is probable that never again shall we all gather as we have in the past. Despite all our efforts at future meetings some chairs will be vacant.

You have reached the age, now, when you can appreciate the fact that your parents, or those who have acted in their place, have done well by you, when they sent you to a Catholic school for your education. Environment is a powerful factor in the lives of people. From exactly the same material, one man builds palaces, while another builds hovels. Character is the difference. Your characters have been moulded well by the good and pious teachers, who have generously given themselves to the service of God in schools, established to train Christian ladies.

Up to this point you have lived protected lives in the sense that you have been under the tutelage and the watchful care of the Sisters. During your school days, whenever any unusual or vexing problem arose, you could go to one of them for comfort, advice, and help. Now this close tie will be severed. You must go out into a world that has little sympathy or time for your vexations. Many a time, you will wish that you were back within the sheltering walls of your Alma Mater. It may be, that at intervals, you will be able to return to feel once more the wholesome influence of your former teachers, and perhaps that of some of your former companions, who have espoused the religious life.

Most of you will remain in the world and become wives and mothers. To you, I recommend the words of Washington Irving, "O woman! when the good man of the house may return, when the heat and the burden of the day is past, do not let him, at such a time, find upon his coming that the foot which should hasten to meet him, is wandering at a distance, that the soft hand which should wipe the sweat from his brow is knocking at the door of other homes." You have been taught the duties of good and faithful wives and mothers. Fulfill them. Others among you will choose to follow the example of the Sisters, who have taught you, and will give your young lives generously to God. May He inspire a goodly number of this class to aspire to perfection in the Religious life.

Each year the MERCIAN Staff chooses a motif which permeates the Year Book. This year, reference is made to the pine trees that have stood for many years upon the campus of the Mount. Some of these are remnants of a primeval forest that once covered this area.

The pines are fragrant and wholesome as should be the lives of those women whose inspirations are drawn from the background of a good Catholic education. The pine tree is ever green, a reminder that graduates of Mt. St. Mary's should be loyal and true to the end. Nobility obliges and surely the graduates of this old Academy have an obligation to show forth in their lives the lessons that they have learned at the knee of their Alma Mater.

And now a fond farewell to the members of the Class of 1950. As we go our separate ways, let it be with a promise that we shall remember each other at the hour of prayer, "For what are men better than sheep or goats that nourish a blind life within the brain, if knowing God they lift not the hands of prayer, both for themselves and for those who call them friend?"

May God bless you one and all and direct your lives to that eternal home, where we may all meet never to part again.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Thomas L. Keany.

Legion of Mary

A PRAESIDIUM OF THE Legion of Mary was established at Mt. St. Mary's in 1942 by Miss Mary Duffy, envoy to the United States, from the Concilium Legionis, or central council of the Legion, Dublin, Ireland.

Membership in the Legion is restricted to juniors and seniors. Meetings are held weekly and the prayers, setting and order of the meetings as prescribed in the official handbook of the Legion are carefully followed. The object of the organization is the sanctification of its members and the active co-operation, under ecclesiastical guidance, in every form of Catholic Action useful for the welfare of the church. Some specific activities have been the organized demand by the local members for Catholic books from the public library; the maintenance of Catholic literature racks in public places, such as drug stores, bus stations, etc.; responsibility for seeing that Catholic inmates of the State School for the Blind are taken to Mass on Sundays and Holy Days.

This year, in union with the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, the members are conducting correspondence courses in Christian Doctrine for children of grade school level who have no opportunity to attend a parochial school. In connection with this activity, the material for the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Work Sheet System, which was prepared by the Rev. C. M. Meyer, for the diocese of Peoria, is used. Enrollment in the course at the present time totals forty-eight students from the mission fields of the diocese of Little Rock.

Sodality of the Blessed Virgin

THE SODALITY of the Blessed Virgin Mary, under a capable staff of officers appointed by Sister Mary Mark, Sodality Moderator, began its year of activity with the first meeting in September.

Sodality meetings were held every Friday afternoon at the regular religion period. On the first Friday of every month, the Sodalists recited the Little Office of the Immaculate Conception in the chapel. On December 8, fifty-one students were received into the Sodality by Msgr. Keany.

Other activities receiving the enthusiastic support of the Sodalists were the students' annual retreat, continued donations to the Sodality "adopted" mission in India, participation in the international Spiritual Bouquet to the Holy Father at Christmas, and different Holy Year projects. Several Soladists took turns taking a small girl from the Arkansas School for the Blind to Sunday Mass during the year.

In Business We're Tried and True

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB was reorganized in September under the sponsorship of Sister Mary Thomasine for the eighteenth consecutive year. Officers elected at the first meeting were: Mary Jo Drew, president; Frances Bednar, vice-president; Betty Sokora, secretary; and Barbara Vick, treasurer. Dolores Fredrich and Lorine Fredrick were appointed as program chairmen. Meetings, including a program of skits, speeches and quizzes which are of interest to business students, were held on the third Wednesday of each month at activity period. Club projects included addressing several thousand envelopes for the Arkansas Crippled Children's Association, typing letters for the C.Y.O., and doing secretarial work for the different parishes.

Fifty word certificates in typing were won by Mary Lee Jablonski, Rose Marie Nabholz, Carolyn Knight, Dolores Fredrich, Agnes Pitonyak, and Christine Konecny. Vilma Castillo and Martha Zerquera made the sixty word certificate, and Marilyn Hart attained the seventy word certificate with no errors.

Eighty word certificates in shorthand were won by Vilma Castillo, Dolores Fredrich, Lorine Fredrick, Betty Herbert, Carolyn Knight, Rose Marie Battisto, Rose Marie Nabholz, Dorothy Probst, Mary Jo Drew, Mary Lee Jablonski, Christine Konecny, Agnes Pitonyak, Carol Smith, Marilyn Hart, and Clarice Cross.

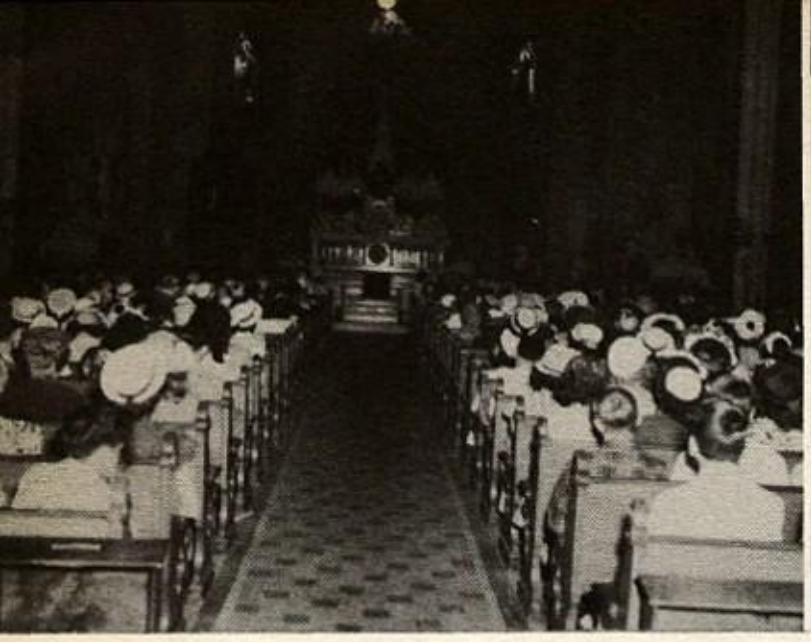
Helen Hemmer at the "mike." CYO talent contest finalists: Joan Hogston, Dorothy and Jeanine Henderson, Mary Lee Jablonski, Betty Sutton, and Sarah Grace Martin. In circle, Rev. James P. McDonnell, CYO director and master of ceremonies for the radio program. Right: Bonnie Jane Breaux, sixth grade, winner in the Central Deanery grammar school talent contest, and Sarah Grace Martin, winner in the state-wide CYO talent show. (Lower circle) Little Georgia Rhea Ussery sings into the mike as a featured entertainer on St. Mary's CYO radio broadcast.

On the Radio Did Our Best

The CYO float in the Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade with Rita Lucas as the Blessed Mother, Dickie Bennett as St. Joseph, Rosemarie Nabholz, Mary Frances Heinze, Dorothy Probst, Rita Hamling, Dolores Fredrich, and Lorine Fredrick, angels, with Catholic High School boys as the Magi and shepherds.



At the Convention We All Took Part

Joined the Fun With All Our Heart

Not only in the religious ceremonies and in the convention sessions, were we especially active, but we proved ourselves real "belles" in all the fun of the informal get-togethers and recreational sessions. Pictured at top are three snapshots taken at the CYO Kiddie Party. There and in the pictures taken at the convention formal dance (top row) as well as at the "hop" (second row) and at the square dance (bottom row) many of us can point and say, "There I am." Recognizable, top row center, is Donna Jean; circle, center, Virginia Shockey at the piano during the impromptu talent show; bottom row, center, Sarah Grace and Dickie.

Christmas Play Was a Holiday Affair

The Christmas pageant was planned around a "Festival of Happy Days" presenting a special holiday of each month of the year, illustrated with songs and dances. Chorus accompaniment to all the numbers was by the Glee Club. Top, left, featured dancers Barbara Vick, Mary Lee Jablonski, and Betty Frazier. Left: Rose Marie Nabholz as Our Lady of the Assumption, surrounded by angels, represents August fifteenth. Below, left: "Yankee Doodle Dandy" tap dancers for July Fourth: Mary Frances Rumbach, Julianne Crook, Deborah Ebbing, Barbara Bethune, Joyce Goodwin, Carol Smith, and Beulah Marie Harris. "Vacation Days": Helen Ruth Brooks, Dorothy Henderson, Norma Jean Walker, Joan Hogston, and Raine Roe. Center, Patricia Dittemore, narrator. Bottom, left "Christmas Candles" dancers, front: Georgianne Hill, Sarah Grace Martin, Theresa Knoff, Mary Ralphe; back row: Belle Spatz, Martha Greene, Frances Tucker, and Pat Eubanks. Right: "White Christmas" Barbara Vick, Connie Brandon, Selma Jo Gilmore, Betty Frazier; back: Joan Armburst, soloist Mary Lee Jablonski, and Jeanine Wernitznig.

With Dance and Song Filled the Air

Mothers Club Planned Things Fine

When We Took Our Dads Out to Dine

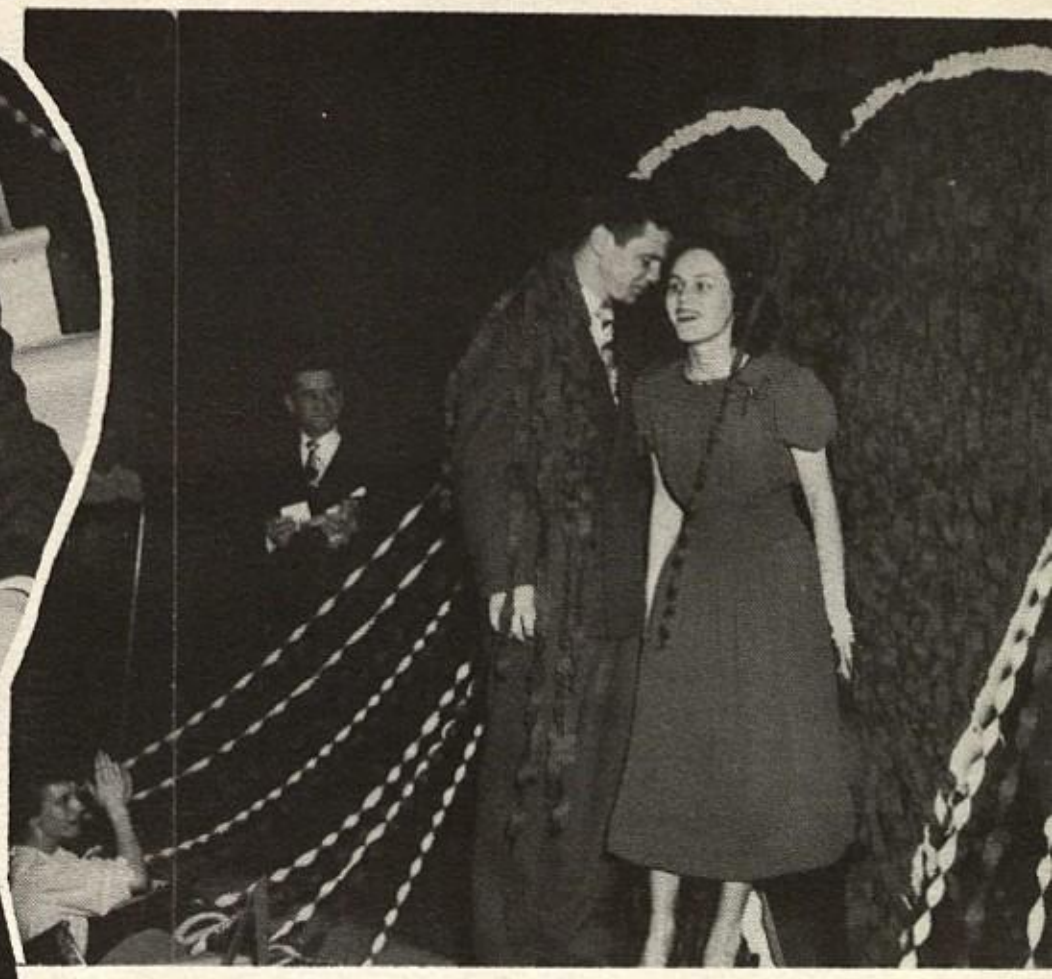
Had Fun Crowning the King of Hearts



King Of Hearts

Curt Johnston, whose picture was entered by Betty Frazier in the King of Hearts Contest, received the largest number of votes and was crowned King at a Valentine Dance held in the gym.

Runner-up Jimmy Stover's picture was entered by Barbara Vick. Funds from the contest were used for the Junior-Senior Picnic, an annual event given in honor of the Seniors.

We Won the Tournament for SMA

Belles Of St. Mary's

The Belles of St. Mary's closed a successful season of 22 games with only four losses and two ties. Climax of season was the triumph of bringing home the trophy from the England Invitational Tournament where the Belles defeated Wright, Redfield, and England. Below: Rita, "Frank," and Judy surround Monsignor and the tournament trophy. Left: Bev gets the tip-off on the toss-up during one of the tournament games. Below: The team invades the kitchen for cocoa and cookies after an out of town game.

Were Real Good Sports Everyday

The Belles And The Mounties

Officially opening with the annual "Tip-Off" supper tendered the Belles by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Krebs, and closing with the basketball banquet and award of the coveted S M award sweaters, the 1950 basketball season was one long to be remembered by the Belles. Below, Monsignor Keany presents Captain Hall with the Belles trophy. Right: Belles line-up: "Soki," "Frank," Mary Kay, guards; Monsignor, Judy, Bev, and Jo, forwards. Mounties' line-up: Shirley, Theresa, Anne, Shirley W., Beverly, Helen. Bottom row, front: The Mounties, Shirley Tenney, Anne Saenger, Carolyn Keatts, Helen Whitehead, Beverly Smith; back row, left to right: Freida Schlatterer, Shirley Wreyford, Theresa Nabholz, Ann Renneker, Helen Duelmer, Sara Meehan.

On 'Mount' Work – We Did Our Part

Mount Staff At Work

Betty Sue Ball and Dolores Fredrich, business managers, check advertising and sales returns. Lower row pictures the MOUNT staff at work with editors and business managers deep in plans; right, Rita Lucas and Phyllis Hampel report to Betty, and Mary Lee gives a reporter's assignment to Rose Battisto.

Quill And Scroll Society
